

MOVIE NIGHT at Parkdale United
A Sunday Night Escape

January 13, in the Conference Room

6:30 PM Dessert 7:00 Movie

Discussion after the movie

Everyone WELCOME

INDIAN HORSE

The saga of residential schools is a stain on Canada's history, and one we are only beginning to understand as a nation. The film Indian Horse is an adaption of the award -winning novel by Ojibwe writer Richard Wagamese. It's a powerful story and disturbing. The film follows young Saul through the residential school system and as he learns to play really good hockey through the osmosis of Hockey Night in Canada, then as a teenager Saul finds a mentor and a new home, eventually leading to the pros in hockey. There he also encounters racism from the all-white teams against which he competes. It still leaves us with some valuable things to say however, the essence and importance of Wagamese's book-both the brutality and beauty –shines more vital than ever.

Recommended for hockey lovers, those of us confronting our past and working at healing, and those in the book club reading Wagamese's book Medicine Walk.

Faith and Justice

Faith and Justice